Regulations.

(2) Notwithstanding the generality of subsection (1), the Cabinet Secretary may make regulations –

- (a) setting out the standards required to be adhered to by County Governments in the establishment of care centres;
- (b) prescribing the programmes that may be administered in a care centre; and
- (c) prescribing the qualifications required to be held by persons managing, employed in or rendering services in a care centre.

(3) Regulations made under subsection (2) may prescribe different standards and other requirements—

Cap. 2.
No. 23 of 2013.

- (a) for services of different types or descriptions rendered in relation to children cared for in a care centre; and
- (b) in respect of different types of licences.

(4) For the purposes of Article 94(6) of the Constitution –

(a) the authority of the county executive committee member to make regulations shall be limited to bringing into effect the provisions of this Act and the fulfilment of the objectives specified under subsection (1); and

(b) the principles and standards set out under the Interpretation and General Provisions Act and the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 in relation to subsidiary legislation shall apply to regulations made under this Act.

38. (1) Subject to subsections (2), (3), and (6), every care centre that, immediately before the commencement of this Act, was registered as a care centre under any other law shall be deemed to be registered as a care centre under this Act, and continues to be so registered for the relevant period of registration subject to such conditions of registration as may be imposed under this Act.

Saving of existing care centres.

No. 8 of 2001.

(2) Despite subsection (1), the county executive committee member may give written notice to the registered owner of a care centre registered under subsection (1), requiring a person who manages that centre to apply for registration under section 21 within three months of the date of that notice, and if the person —

(a) fails to apply for registration within the specified period, the care centre ceases to be registered under subsection (1) at the end of that period; or

(b) applies for registration within the required period, the centre shall continue to be a registered care centre under subsection (1) until that application has been determined.

(3) Despite subsection (1), if subsection (4) applies, the county executive committee member may, by written notice to a person who operates a care centre that is deemed to be registered under subsection (1), declare that the care centre is no longer registered under subsection (1) and the notice has effect accordingly.

(4) The county executive committee member may give a notice under subsection (3) only if it is satisfied that the person managing the care centre has failed to comply with —

(a) this Act on the requirements of registration; or

(b) any conditions for registration.

(5) The county executive committee member may, despite the fact that the care centre concerned does not meet the minimum requirements for registration prescribed under this Act, issue to the person managing the care centre a transitional certificate in such manner as the county executive committee member may prescribe and subject to such conditions as the committee member may impose.

(6) Where the county executive committee member is not satisfied that the conditions specified in a certificate issued under subsection (5) are being complied with, the county executive committee member may, by written notice to the person managing the care centre, cancel the certificate of registration.

(7) Every notice under subsection (3) or subsection (6) shall set out the reasons for the action taken.

(8) Subsections (1) to (6) shall not limit any powers to cancel or suspend the registration of a care centre in the manner prescribed by the county executive committee member.

MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Statement of the Objects and Reasons for the Bill

In Kenya, a majority of young girls drop out of school due to pregnancy, with a few of them resuming school. This is despite the fact that there is in existence, a school re-entry policy which was passed in 1994 and which aims at ensuring that girls who fall pregnant are admitted back to school and that extensive guidance and counselling is imparted on such children. The National School Health Policy was also launched in 2009 by the Ministry of Education in collaboration with the Ministry responsible for Public Health. This policy also deals with teenage pregnancy and articulates the need for, and the process of, re-admission into school of teenage mothers.

Despite the existence of these policies, a majority of teenage mothers are unable to return due to stigma and ridicule from teachers, peers and the communities and as a result, they miss out on the benefits that accrue from education. Teenage mothers have been constantly isolated and stigmatized by the fellow pupils with hardly any effective interventions from teachers. The school environment is also not always conducive for the young school going mothers and the community is also always not willing to support young mothers who want to return to school.

The problem of teenage pregnancies is compounded by the fact that a majority of teenage parents are from poor households and are faced by other socio-economic problems including lack of income and skills that would enable them support their family. This Bill therefore seeks to provide a framework for—

- (1) the return to school, of girls who fall pregnant while in school;
- (2) the fair treatment of girls who are pregnant and in school and drop out of school and in this case, the girls should not face discrimination by being forced to attend different programs or schools from those of their peers;
- (3) provide academic support, parenting and life skills classes and strategies to prevent future unplanned pregnancies;
- (4) help pregnant and parenting students to gain access to affordable child care, and revise school policies and practices to remove barriers that hinder the attainment of education by all children; and
- (5) provide for enforcement and monitoring mechanisms by the Ministry of Education by taking legal action against school heads, teachers and parents who are unwilling to re-admit those who drop out due to pregnancy or childbirth.

This Bill also seeks to provide a framework for the provision of care centres which would provide facilities for the care of children born to child parent and who would wish to resume with their studies but have no person to take care of their child. The Bill imposes an obligation on the county governments to establish care centres for this purpose and sets out the standards that a county government or any other person who intends to establish a care centre is required to meet. The Bill leaves it to the county governments to provide a framework for the registration and licensing of the centres and the manner in which they are to be monitored and inspections carried out in relation to the centres.

Statement on the delegation of legislative powers and limitation of fundamental rights and freedoms

The Bill does not delegate legislative powers nor does it limit the fundamental rights and freedoms.

Statement on how the Bill concerns county governments

The Bill provides a framework for the implementation of the right to education for all children including teenage parents. It imposes an obligation on the National and county governments to put mechanisms in place and establish programmes that ensure that not only is this right realised in relation to teenage parents, but also ensure that the rising cases of teenage pregnancies and the dropping out of school by teenage parents is curbed. The Bill is therefore a Bill concerning county governments in terms of Article 110(1)(a) of the Constitution.

Statement that the Bill is not a money Bill, within the meaning of Article 114 of the Constitution
