4. COMMUNICATION FROM THE CHAIR ON THE SITTINGS OF THE SENATE HELD IN TURKANA COUNTY FROM 25TH TO 29TH SEPTEMBER, 2023

The Speaker conveyed the following Communication from the Chair: -

“I take this opportunity to welcome you to Turkana County. This is indeed a momentous event for it marks the first sittings of the Senate outside Nairobi in the term of the 13th Parliament. It is also the first sitting of the Senate in the predominantly arid northern part of Kenya, with a set of unique challenges and opportunities that are different from the rest of the country.

I thank the leadership of the Turkana County Government, both the Executive and the County Assembly, led by the Honourable Governor, Jeremiah Ekamais Napotikan, and the Honourable Speaker, Christopher Doye Nakuleu, for the warm welcome since our arrival in Lodwar, and for facilitating these sittings. I request the two gentlemen to stand so that they may be acknowledged in the Senate tradition.

Allow me at this juncture to convey our deep appreciation to the Leadership and Members of the Turkana County Assembly for hosting the Senate and for adjourning their regular sittings to allow the Senate to use the County

Assembly premises for its sittings. I request the Leadership of the Turkana County Assembly that are present to stand so that you may be recognized and acknowledged in the Senate tradition.

I also acknowledge the significant contribution that has been made by the National Government. We particularly single out the office of the Cabinet Secretary and the Principal Secretary in the Ministry of Interior and National Administration. Your cooperation and facilitation of our requests cannot go unnoticed. We thank you.

Our sincere gratitude finally goes to the great people of Turkana County for the friendly welcome to their County. We shall forever be grateful for the acts of kindness and the warm hospitality extended to the Senate.

Honourable Senators,

You will agree with me that a major hallmark of the Constitution of Kenya is devolution and the devolved governance structure as captured in Chapter Eleven of the Constitution. Devolved government aims to bring services closer to the people as a means of accelerating development and enhancing collective responsibility.

The sittings of the Senate outside its traditional premises at Parliament Buildings in Nairobi are therefore designed as an ingenious way of enhancing the interaction between the national and county levels of government, and an innovative way through which the Senate may exercise its roles as provided for under Articles 94 and 95 of the Constitution. In this manner, we bring the Senate, and by extension the Parliament of Kenya, closer to the people.

More specifically, the objectives of the sittings of the Senate outside Nairobi are to –

- i. promote the role and work of the Senate and enhance public awareness regarding the Business of the Senate – and Parliament in general;
- ii. highlight existing and new opportunities for engagement in the legislative process;
- iii. develop and strengthen partnerships at the county level of government; and
- iv. provide an opportunity to members and staff of county assemblies to learn and share best practices with Senators and parliamentary officers;

The Senate embraces the fundamental principle that it exists for the people and stands as a beacon of democracy, representing their collective will, aspirations, and concerns. Through this Senate Mashinani initiative, the Senate is making its contribution towards nurturing inclusivity in the management of public affairs in Kenya.

In holding our sitting at the Turkana County Assembly, the Senate also affirms that county assemblies have the power to directly identify and address the people's concerns, revitalize their hopes and aspirations, deepen a democratic, consultative and participatory government as well as strengthening institutions of governance in the country.

County assemblies are therefore called to complement good legislative practices by proactively and robustly taking up their constitutional and statutory roles as espoused under Article 185 of the Constitution and sections 8 and 9 of the County Governments Act to bring the executive to account. In this respect, the Senate is willing to partner with county assemblies to ensure that devolution works.

On our part, the Senate will continue to play its role as the protector and defender of devolution. We shall jealously guard against attempts at watering down the devolved governance structure and thereby eroding the gains that devolution has brought and portends.

Honourable Senators,

Beginning yesterday, and over the next four days, there are various activities lined up including Plenary and Committee sittings, as well as engagement forums and inspection visits. These activities accord the public a special opportunity to actively engage and participate in the legislative process. We encourage the residents of Turkana and the neighboring Counties to turn up and engage with the Senate.

Let us, therefore, take advantage of this unique opportunity to engage in candid discourse on what needs to be done to achieve prosperity and to strengthen devolution. In doing so, I am confident that the objectives that we have set for yourselves through this event and the subsequent ones in the term of the 13th Parliament, shall have been met.

Honourable Senators,

I now wish to acknowledge the presence of invited dignitaries who have joined us for this special occasion. I request each one of the invited guests to stand when called out so that you may be acknowledged by the Senate.

They are:-

Honourable Senators,

As I conclude, I reiterate the symbiotic relationship between the Senate and county governments. This relationship must be based on mutual understanding, consultation, learning and experience sharing for devolution to achieve its objectives as enshrined in the Constitution. I am optimistic that that in the coming days, this, will be demonstrated.

Once again, I extend our gratitude to the leadership of the Turkana County Government and the great people of Turkana County for receiving the Senate and facilitating our sittings in “the cradle of mankind”.

I thank you.”
